

A Penny for your Thoughts

The Roman god Janus, after whom the month of January is named, was two-faced. Statues show him looking backward into the past and forward into the future.

Dr. Paul Pabst, 1101 Sepulveda Blvd., Manhattan Beach:

"More emphasis on moral principals in people's everyday life. Also less emphasis on the mercenary side which seems to be so prevalent these days.

Ed Greene, 429 Ave. F., Redondo Beach:

"I'd like to see more objective reporting in the national and local press. I'd like to see less exploitation of the sensational side of the news and writing aimed at people's intelligence instead of their emotions."

LaVerne Grayson, 523 Via Monte D'oro.

"It would be wonderful if in 1965 we could see an end to the long battle between the mayor and the city council of Los Angeles. If they would spend less time fighting they could spend more time doing the jobs to which they were elected.

George M. Ebert, 33 Merrill Dr.:

"In 1965 I'd like to see a reduction in foreign aid spending and a review of the whole system. The government should concentrate more on domestic problems. There are favorable signs in '65 with the reduced spending that will result when the Reserves are phased into the National Guard and the increased emphasis on aid to education."

Harold Drewno, 5624 Via Del Collado:

"It would be a great thing if we could see an end or at least a slowing down of the price-wage spiral in 1965. There seems to be no end to the hike in the cost of living. The unions demand higher wages and management raises prices or vice-versa.

Production dates are scheduled for May 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14, with rehearsals beginning later this month. Burnett Ferguson is faculty adviser for the musical.

'VOICE BOX' SIGNAL . . . To aid school children and blind persons in crossing streets where there are no crossing guards, the first "talking traffic signal" in the world was demonstrated in Los Angeles County.

Chamber Music Society

String Quartet Presents First Concert in Series

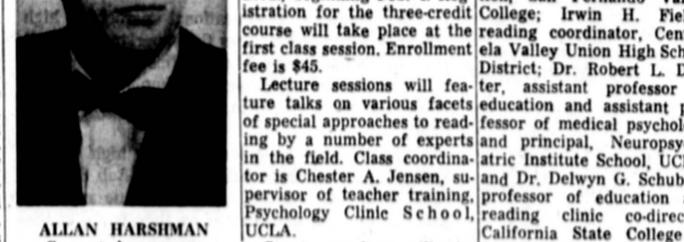

The Los Angeles String Quartet will be featured during the second annual concert series being sponsored by the South Bay Chamber Music Society, it has been announced here.

The World famous quartet will appear Jan. 30 and April 10 in concerts at Redondo Union High School auditorium. The Louis Kaufman Trio will present a program March 6, and Levintritt Violin contest winner David Abel of San Francisco will appear in a recital with pianist Sidney Stafford May 15.

The String Quartet, which includes Paul Shure and Bonnie Douglas on the violins, Allan Harshman on the viola, and Frederick Seykora on the cello, will present Haydn's in F Major, Opus 74, and Brahms's in A Minor, Opus 51. Clarinetist Mitchell Lurie will be the guest soloist at the first concert, playing Clarinet Quintet in A Major by Mozart, K. 581.

Officers and members of the South Bay Music Society contribute both time and financial support to provide important cultural events for residents of the area. The 15-week lecture series will be conducted from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursdays at Crenshaw School, 18620 Crenshaw Blvd., beginning Feb. 4.

Lecture sessions will feature talks on various facets of special approaches to reading by a number of experts in the field. Class coordinator is Chester A. Jensen, supervisor of teacher training, Psychology Clinic School, UCLA.

ALLAN HARSHMAN Concert Appearance

Teachers Offered Course in Reading Instruction Here

Torrance elementary school teachers will have an opportunity to increase their proficiency in teaching children to read as a result of a course designed by Superintendent J. H. Hull which will be offered by the Education Extension Division of UCLA this spring.

The 15-week lecture series will be conducted from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursdays at Crenshaw School, 18620 Crenshaw Blvd., beginning Feb. 4. Registration for the three-credit course will take place at the first class session. Enrollment fee is $45.

Scouts Set Parade In Torrance

Boy Scouts from four districts of the Los Angeles Area Council will participate in Boy Scout Week Parade in Torrance, Feb. 6, at 10:30 a.m.

More than 5,000 cubs, scouts, explorers, and leaders will march in the parade down Torrance Boulevard, accompanied by 25 high school, military and youth bands, according to H. T. (Ted) Olson, chairman of the parade steering committee.

FLOATS MADE by the scout units will depict the parade theme: "A Good Way to Grow." Eighteen rosettes and three trophies will be awarded for outstanding units, floats and bands.

The event, held in Torrance last year and televised locally, expanded from a 1,000 boy participation two years ago to number 3,000 scouts from the South Bay district.

Trustees To Debate Unity Plan

Dr. Luther W. Busby Jr. and Derry Kaufman will debate the issue of school unification for Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach, and Manhattan Beach tomorrow at a combined meeting of the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Redondo Coordinating Council.

Kaufman, a member of the Board of Education of the Redondo Beach City School District, will urge voters to retain the present three districts.

High schools in the three beach cities are presently unified, while each city maintains its own elementary school district. The unification plan, to be submitted to voters in the three cities on Feb. 4, is a result of the Unruh Act adopted by the Legislature last year.

The Unruh Act requires many of the state's smaller districts to develop unification plans to qualify for additional state aid.

At Conference Dr. Albert Posner, assistant superintendent of schools for instruction in Torrance, will attend the regional meeting of the Associated Public School Systems.

The meeting, to be held at Pacific Grove, Calif., will begin Jan. 24 and continue through Jan. 26.

column more than once. So I believe your theory is to tell the truth and then embellish it, not only to make women angry but to insult and at the same time fascinate them.

"In fact, you have the genius of the snake over the bird: The bird wants to fly away but the snake fascinates it in a hypnotic way.

"It is little wonder that so many American GIs marry foreign women. For the most part, European girls are reared to be ladies in every sense of the word.

Ann Landers Says Warped Personality May Be the Answer

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter has been going with a boy for two years. He is 20. She is 23.

When Celeste met Jack he was in the service. He spent weekends at our home whenever he could get a pass. After he was discharged he practically moved in. He drove Celeste to work in her car, entertained himself all day (said he couldn't find a job), then picked her up at work.

Three weeks later Celeste made a trip to Jack's home town to see him. Last week she went again. This morning she told us she is going to marry him. I know Celeste is using her savings to pay his debts and they will be flat broke.

Why would a lovely girl do this to herself? I need your help.—A VIRGINIA MOTHER

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter in your column from the idiot who said "Money is king. It can buy you all the friends in the world. Without it you're a dead duck."

I wish there was some way I could make that kid understand how wrong he is. I was born with a platinum spoon in my mouth. When I was 15 I had my own car. (No driver's license, but that didn't make any difference to my parents. They were determined that I was going to be popular.)

The Rev. Ray Bringham will conclude his series of sermons at Harbor Church, 1032 W. Pacific Coast Hwy., today at the 10 and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

The Rev. Robert Pruet, pastor of Harbor Church, extends a cordial invitation to people of all faiths in the Southwest area to attend today's services.

One day my English teacher took me aside and told me I was a bright boy but I had a few stupid ideas. She suggested I stop playing Santa Claus and see what happened. She was right. When I quit shelling out and hauling kids around it was like I developed some loathsome disease. Nobody came near me.

Today I have few friends, but they are devoted and genuine. I wouldn't trade one of them for 100 of the others.—SMARTER NOW

Dear Now: A wise man once said, "The way to make friends is to treat people well. The way to lose friends is to treat them often."

Individuals who knock themselves out entertaining, gifting, and catering to people feel inadequate. They are using the bankroll to solidify friendships and it never works.

Display Your Femininity, Girls

Even though I repeat again and again, "If I say it, it must be so," some of you refuse to believe. But fortunately, along comes a letter from another man, who perhaps may be able to explain to you what I am trying to do. By reading him you may come to a better understanding of me. He writes: "Dear Count Marco: I suppose this may put me in the minority, but I like you and I like your column."
